"Compostable by Design" - A Collaborative Platform for Scaling Up Compostable Solutions in Europe

The "Compostable by Design" platform has been created to foster cross-value chain collaboration aimed at expanding compostable solutions across Europe. This initiative operates on the principle that compostable products, when utilized effectively, can greatly contribute to a circular economy. The platform aims to build robust scientific and technical evidence to engage and inform consumers, industry stakeholders, and policymakers in constructive discussions about implementing circular pathways for compostable products.

This presentation will provide an overview of the mission and vision of "Compostable by Design," detailing our collaborative approach and showcasing key achievements thus far. Attendees will gain insights into our efforts to create impactful compostable solutions, highlighting the importance of cross-sector cooperation in achieving our objectives.
